

Devalayam i Rogaland - Membership Registration

Devalayam I Rogaland is a registered Religious organization in Norway to practice the vedic philosophy and Hindu religion through workshop, social service, education and teaching. Residents in Norway meeting the following criteria are welcome to become members –

- Individuals interested in Hindu religion and willing to abide by the constitution of the organization are eligible for membership in the organization.
- To be registered as a member the individual shall submit the registration form with his/her details and state his/her consent to abide by the constitution.
- Members willing to pay a yearly fee will be termed Contributors for the year and will have voting rights. Each contributor above the age of 18 years will have one vote (please send an email to stavanger.mandhir@gmail.com if you want to be a contributor)
- Guests who consent to abide by the rules of the Temple shall be allowed to participate in the activities of the Temple.

In Norway all registered religious organisations receive some financial support from the state and the Kommune where the members reside. The amount of this support depends on the number of registered members with the organization. This support will go a long way in supporting the organization and its activities. This will not cost the registered members anything.

To apply for membership and support the organisation, please fill up the following form. Note that children can also be included and will be counted by the state to provide the financial support. Your Norwegian Personal ID is required by law for the membership. As per law you can be a member of only one religious organisation to get the financial support from the state. In case you are a member of any other such religious organisation in Norway, you will have to de-register from that before applying to Devalayam i Rogaland.
